Description

The Metasys COMPACT Dynamic Amalgam Separator for dental unit is the perfect choice for those seeking a reliable, space-saving device designed to deliver high separation efficiency in a single unit.

With its dynamic separation process, the COMPACT Dynamic achieves a separation efficiency of up to 96.4%, ensuring optimal performance even under the most demanding conditions, such as foam formation during prophylaxis and various surgical procedures. Equipped with state-of-the-art capacitive sensor technology, it accurately monitors the filling level externally, eliminating the need for internal probes that require frequent cleaning.

Strengths and Features:

- Dynamic Separation: Effectively counteracts foam formation inside the device, preventing equipment failure.
- Capacitive Sensor Technology: Advanced technology ensures maximum reliability in monitoring levels without the need for internal probes.
- Easy Cleaning: The entire device can be cleaned through the suction line with suction disinfection using GREEN&CLEAN M2, avoiding the handling of contaminated parts.
- Versatile Installation: Compact design with retrofit kits available for easy integration into existing setups.

Technical Specifications:

- Separation efficiency: Up to 96.4%.
- Monitoring technology: External capacitive sensor.
- Cleaning method: Suction disinfection with GREEN&CLEAN M2.
- Installation: Single, compact unit with retrofit kit available.

- Applications: Prophylaxis, surgical procedures.

The COMPACT Dynamic stands out for its ease of use and maintenance, offering a reliable and advanced solution for managing amalgam waste in dental practices.
